Success

‘To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty, to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better, whether by a healthy child, a garden patch or a redeemed social condition; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. ‘This is to have succeeded.

And The Winners Are…

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

If we could save our school years in a bottle, the first thing that we would like to do is look through the glass and remember the past four years here at Brighton High School.

We, the Class of 1986 have been through a lot together. Some things we choose to remember; some to forget. We will always remember the joy we shared. It is hard to leave behind the smiles and laughter of our friends and teachers. We are leaving the "Castle on the Hill" with knowledge, understanding and a sense of self-assurance, for we know that we are the champions, and that we have made it through twelve years.

Soon we will stand, facing the future with anticipation and remorse, for we are now young adults ready for yesterday and willingness to see our tomorrows. Let's take the road best chosen for us that was given instructly by the best.

My message to the Class of 1986 is to look back and remember the refrain, "Brighton High Students are Champions again."

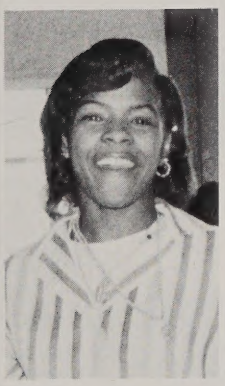
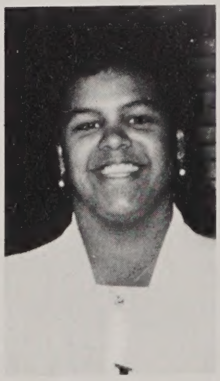
At the 1985 Brighton High School Graduation

Meeting Rev. Jessie Jackson was a great honor to me, because he is a world renowned minister and a great public speaker who I admire. I was greatly honored to be invited to the 1985 Brighton High Graduation as an usher. Being there made me feel so important, as I am already.





Compassion

I remember my high school years as being so special. Since starvation happened in many countries such as Ethiopia, the song "We Are the World" was born by Lionel Richie and Michael Jackson. This song beat all other songs and spread out all over the world, raising million dollars for helping poor people. Then the "Live Aid" concert was opened. It made millions of dollars for South Africa. This memory won't be forgotten by me. My high school years were the years of hope.

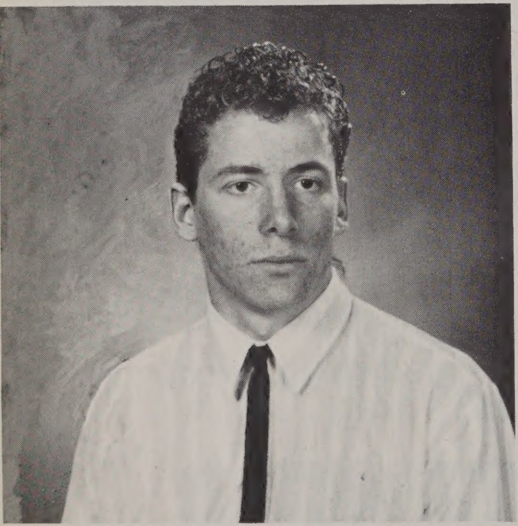
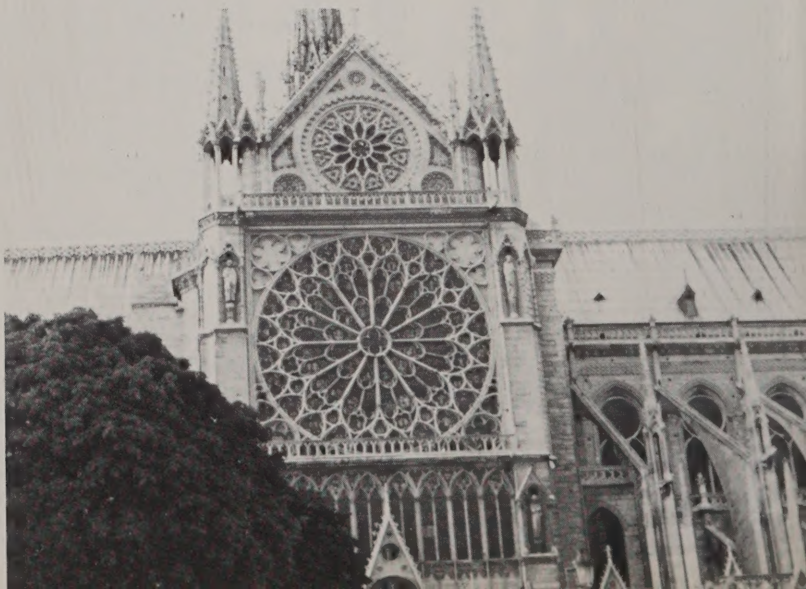
Sentimental Journey

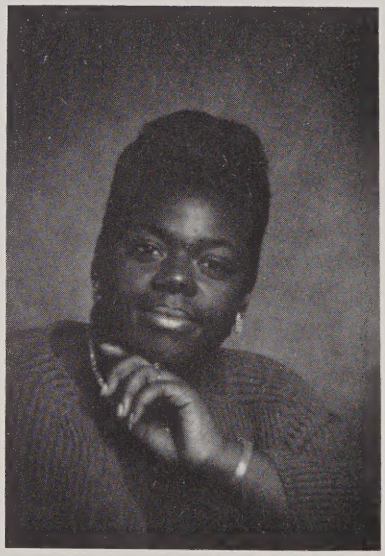


When I found out that I was going to Paris, Brussels, Amsterdam, and London with the American Institute of Foreign Study, I was ecstatic. I would be going for four weeks to the most exciting places in the world! My first impression of London was one of awe, here was the birthplace of my ancestors. Each place was more beautiful than the last. On the day I left, I was deflated. I was leaving all my new found friends and the city that dreams are made of.

Michael Buccelli



On the Town in London



Being chosen to attend a trip to Europe with 250 other students from around the world was FANTASTIC! When I received the acceptance letter I was speechless and couldn't believe that I was actually going to Europe! The group that I went with was great. They were all just as excited and nervous as I was.

When we landed it was great; we were in a foreign country that we'd never be able to appreciate again in the same way and we were jet-lagged and extremely tired.

While on the trip, I met a young man from Alaska. He was very intelligent and very friendly. We talked frequently about our states. At the end of the trip we exchanged addresses and hoped to meet each other again in the future.

The day we left, everyone was very anxious to get home. But all of us were crying. When we finally landed at Logan Airport I was relieved, but yet I was very unhappy because I knew that I might never get the chance to see any of these kids again.

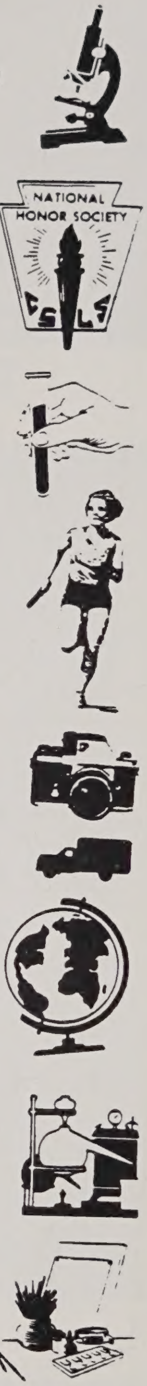
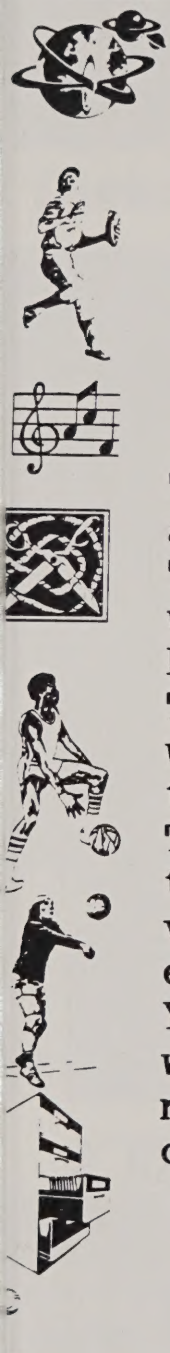
On June 22, 1985 I received the Mayor Flynn Sportsmanship Award in Basketball and Softball. The award is given to two students from each Boston area High School who shows leadership, overall sportsmanship and excells in performance.





GRADUATION DAY

Today we'll start a new life
and we'll say our last goodbyes.
To all the friends we've grown to love
with whom we've laughed and cried.
Remembering the fun and laughter
The problems and the fears, and watching all our memories grow
throughout our high school years.
The memories of the dances and the new friends that we've met, vacations, teachers, talking, and
exams we'd rather forget.
Yes, high school days are precious
where all your dreams are true;
not the end, but the beginning of a life we'll start a new.

"Remembrance of Things Past" To the Class of '86

As the high school years end, the memories always live on. Everyone has had his or her share of good and bad times, and we have learned a lot from these years. We also did some crazy thngs. We love it here at Brighton High, but we are also glad to leave and get on with our lives.

During my years here, I remember when Madonna became a superstar, the first teacher went into space, the first hurricane, Gloria, that I ever encountered came, and of course, how the funniest and most enjoyable teacher, Mr. Pieri, taught me.

I wish all of my friends and everyone to be successful in their post-secondary school life.

by Sothea Chiemouiom

Hair

If it were possible to reverse the hands of time back to my high school years, hairstyles are what I would remember most. Hairstyles have made a lasting impression for the past decades. In the 60's there were the women with bouffant and beehive hairdos. The men were the greaser monkeys with their hair greased back and side burns.

In the 70's came the D.A., a normal hairstyle which was later proven to be boring. In the 80's we found blue, red, orange, and green hair, which helped if you were lost. Punk-rock hairstyles were fashionable. The glitter and the color made the people unforgettable.

It is possible to reverse the hands of time with the memories that remain.

by Cinthya Perez

Popular TV Shows

Ten or twenty years from now, while working in an office or wandering in a field, I will probably ask myself; "What memories do I have of my high school years?" One thing that could jump back in my mind is popular TV shows.

"Dynasty" and "Dallas" are two popular shows in the narrative frame genre. Popular comedies are "The Cosby Show," the traditional situation comedy, and "Family Ties." "The A-Team" with its glamorous scenes and fascinating music is the #1-rated network show among local viewers. "The Twilight Zone" and "Amazing Stories" are the suspense anthology series which are new-coming in my senior year. In conclusion, all of these spectacular shows have marked my best and worst years of high school.

by Diemlan Nguyen

Movies

My memories of my high school years included many good movies, such as Rambo, The Year of the Dragon, and A View to a Kill. Those were very good action movies. Killing Fields is a good movie about Cambodia, where the communists took over. Many people were killed. People starved and lacked hospitalization.

by Samiane Chayeattaravong

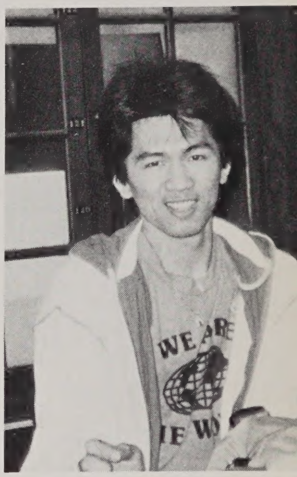
Computers

Memories could easily get lost after years, but the computers, helping in recording and analyzing data, impressed me deeply. I won't forget them even after years.

It is hard to imagine how a machine, as big as a room and used only for arithmetic calculations, developed into a TV-size, typewriter-style microcomputer. Microcomputers help in word-processing, data management, programming, drawing pictures and many other usages.

When I first saw a computer, I was amazed by its appearance. It helps us not only to do boring work, but also shorten our reaction time in many circumstances. With the aid of computers, we can deepen and widen our civilization much, much faster than before.

by Gregory Yee-Hong Lui



Music Star

Madonna is a very appealing girl around the world today. She is the pop-chart singer with trashy outfits and a "hi-there" belly button. She has a charming voice and a beautiful look. She loves being onstage, loves reaching out to people and she loves the expression in people's eyes. She likes to combine things in her clothes, like a uniform skirt and fishnets. No one can act or sing the way she does.

by Sam Ouen Tho

Fads

Fads have changed from hula-hoops, skateboards, and rollerskates to rubber bracelets around the wrist, walkmans, and digital watches. The dances have changed from the "twist," to flipping and spinning around on the floor, which is referred to as "breakdancing." The people have come a long way from wearing poodle-skirts, and cut-off shirts, to two-toned jeans, and polo shirts. For entertainment, the kids today play video games, which is an updated version of the pinball machine. While the girls used to swoon over Elvis Presley, the Beatles, and Little Richard, the girls now scream over Michael Jackson, Wham!, and Prince. Rock and Roll may be here to stay, but is accompanied by soul music like Run D.M.C., the Fat Boys, and the New Edition. 3-D movies have come and gone and now, violent movies quench the bloodthirsty maniacs.

In years to come, we will have new fashions, new styles, and new singers. It is exciting to think about it, but nothing will mean as much to us as those we knew in high school.

by Michael McDonald

Fashion

Fashions of the early 80's will always remind me of years in high school.

Students were in trend with time with "501" jeans, but the turn of the year brought about prairie shirts and girls with ruffled high neck blouses. Once again they returned to designer jeans like Sergio Valente, Jordache, Guess, and Calvin Klein, spending $50 for a pair of jeans instead of a mere $13 for a pair of 501 Levis. Moving away from long prairie skirts to mini skirts was the beginning of the "Flash Dance" era. Torn shorts, high top sneakers with long dresses and skirts were in vogue. In '85 they kicked back with fluorescent colored stretch material pants, jean jackets, and leather bombers.
